HOW STUFF WORKS

How to stay safe from wireless network hackers

By Marshall Brain
HowStuffWorks.com

There was an arrest reported last week that should send shivers down the spine of anyone who has installed a wireless router, also known as a wi-fi router.

In case you don't know what a wireless router is, it is a small box that you buy for your house or apartment. It allows your laptop, iPad and other wireless devices to connect to the Internet. Tens of millions of people in the United States have installed wireless routers because they make it so easy to connect to the Internet.

It turns out that if you install a wireless router, and if you leave it in its default settings and you turn it on, you have opened yourself up to a major vulnerability.

Your new wireless router creates a wide open wi-fi hotspot with a diameter of several hundred feet. Because you have used the default settings, which means that you have set no password to prevent people from connecting, anyone nearby can now connect to your hotspot.

It could be a neighbor, the guest of a neighbor, or someone parked on a nearby street. Because you have no password on your router, anyone nearby can connect to your router in just a few seconds. When they con-

If you are not a technology-minded person, this fiddling may be uncomfortable, and you may want to enlist the help of a friend who is technology-minded, or hire someone to configure things.

The basic idea is that your wi-fi router has a way to manipulate its settings. You need to log into the router and, at the very least, set up a password.

How do you "log into the router"? The owner's manual for the router will contain instructions. If you cannot find the manual that came with the router, you can find it on the Internet by typing the model number into a search engine. Some routers even come with a CD that will help you through these steps.

So log into your router, find the wireless settings and create something called a WPA password for your router. This is one of those things that takes 30 seconds if you know what you are doing.

As soon as you set that password, you have eliminated the threat of accidental arrest for child porn. Of course, you have also just disconnected all of your own devices as well. So now you need to go to your laptop, your iPad, etc. and type in the password there as well. They will then be able to reconnect to the Internet.

doors — but in the end, I just won.

The number of new cases has exploded across the state — 350 in the past five years — the state has dropped inspections by 33 percent, allowing some of the facilities to stay open, though the state has the authority to impose fines on that break the law, the fines are routinely delayed or dropped altogether. The state's lack of enforcement has prompted other state agencies to cut off and in some cases reward clients to live in JSCA won't close.

It could be a neighbor, the guest of a neighbor, or someone parked on a nearby street. Because you have no password on your router, anyone nearby can connect to your router in just a few seconds. When they connect, you will not know it is happening. And you may not even care. If they read a few web pages or check their email, the tiny bit of bandwidth they use would be imperceptible.

But if they start watching a streaming video, you may notice that your connection has gotten really sluggish, and you may have no idea why.

The bigger problem, however, is child porn. If the person connected to your hotspot downloads child pornography or any other illegal material, federal agents are going to trace the illegal activity to your wireless router. Then they are going to come after you.

Once they find you, the attitude will be to arrest now and ask questions later. Meanwhile, the person who did the downloading is invisible. It might take days or weeks for your innocence to be confirmed. And the amazing thing is that you will have had no idea it was happening.

So what can you do to prevent this scenario from unfolding? There are actually three different things you can do, all of which require a little bit of fiddling.

So log into your router, find the wireless settings and create something called a WPA password for your router. This is one of those things that takes 30 seconds if you know what you are doing.

If you want to be even more secure, there are two other things you can do. The first thing is to turn off something called SSID broadcasting. This is a feature that makes your network visible to anyone who is nearby.

Once you turn SSID broadcasting off, you can connect because you know the SSID, but other people will not see your network. The other thing you can do is to turn on MAC address screening. You can enter the MAC addresses of each device you want to connect to your network. Anyone with an unknown MAC address will be denied access, even if they guess the password.

While you are in there making these changes, make sure your router does not create and enable a separate "guest network." If it does, disable it or set a password on this second hotspot as well.

On Tuesday, Austin and Oscar Sharp were down on Anthony's Creek to chase an old sheep killing bear. They had him up and going. Then the big storm put an end to proceedings.

On Wednesday, there came a call from the Sakers on Point Mountain, in Valley Fork of Elk. A bear had made raids on their sheep, and was probably still in the neighborhood. Oscar Sharp took his young cousin Joe Sharp, and responded to the call. After a two hour chase and running fight, the bear was put up a tree on the Gauley Mountain, down close to Elk River near the mouth of Dry Branch. This was a male bear, lumped off at 300 pounds. His age was estimated at four years.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Barnes during the weekend were: Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Cloudside Seat at Bear Hunt

During two seasons, spring and fall, Neighbor Will Grigger sits in the lookout tower on White Rock, high on the Beaver Lick. There are lots of things to see and sometimes there are things to be heard too. The other Thursday morning, Mr. Grigger was sitting in his tower, after checking the temperature thermometer, the barometer, the humidity gauge, the direction and velocity of wind, and other little items he must make note down. Then out of the stillness of the valley, better than fifteen hundred feet below him, came the lone howl of a hound just laid on a trail. Then came the deep mellow voice of a second hound, and yet another, with the whoop of a hunter to those his dogs along. Bear, says Bill to himself, as he fixed his windows to miss none of the thrilling music coming up to his cloudside seat. In a minute, the hounds had the trail straightened out and were coming round the mountain in full voice. Then there were hound sounds good and plenty; seemed like dogs had been peered on the trail out of a tank.

Then three old trailers spoke their piece, a broad east back the bear had been jumped out of his bed; all was coming along well and just held steady. Then the whole bushel of reserve dogs got a good soak of bear smell, and they did go wild—the air actually quivered with their ranting and raving and wailing.

In a couple of miles or so, the dogs overtook the bear; there was a fuss and a fight. The baying of the dogs was broadcast that the bear was treed. What those reserve dogs said to the bear is not fit to print here.

Then three old trailers spoke their piece, a broad cast back the bear had been pumped out of his bed; all was coming along well and just hold steady. Then the whole bunch of reserve dogs got a good soak of bear smoo, and they did go wild—the air actually quivered with their ranting and raving and wailing.

In a couple of miles or so, the dogs overtook the bear; there was a fuss and a fight. The baying of the dogs was broadcast that the bear was freed. What three reserve dogs said to the bear is not fit to print here.

In a few minutes the quote of a gun came to Mr. Crigger, and a fight and a chase was on again. Soon the dogs bayed again, and again the quote of a gun. This time it was for keeps.

Mr. Crigger had read the sign aright. When he came down to the settlement, he was told a big bear had killed and eaten one of three ewes at the home of Errett Ramey. The Sharp twins, Austin and Oscar had been sent for; they came with three veteran bear dogs and six pups. It was a short chase. The bear was a big one. There is another bear in the community.

For a month and more Elmer Sharp has been missing sheep and lambs on his hog farm on Hooks Mountain near Marlinton. He found where a bear had killed and eaten three ewes. In addition, at least fifteen head of hogs are missing.

Last Friday, Mr. Sharp brought all his sheep into the barn yard, to be penned for shearing on Saturday. Out in a pasture field in plain view, came a large catlike varment. It was apparently following up the sheep.

At first Mr. Sharp thought it a wild cat, but it was most too large, the size of a big dog. Then too, it had a large long tail which she will glean.

Miss Thomas has been active in the following school organizations, and other groups: Member of the Marlinton High School Band, member and president of the Marlinton High School Chorus, A. B. D. S., an athletic organization; school cheerleader, Future Homemakers of America, president of the Marlinton Lumbermen's Club, and member of the Order of Rainbow Girls. Miss Thomas has maintained an average of 90 per cent in her school work for the past three years.

There is another bear in the community.

For a month and more Elmer Sharp has been missing sheep and lambs on his big farm on Becks Mountain near Marlinton. He found where a bear had killed and eaten three ewes. In addition, at least fifteen head of lambs are missing.

Last Friday, Mr. Sharp brought all his sheep into the barn yard, to be panned for shearing on Saturday. Out in a pasture field in plain view, came a large catlike varment. It was apparently following up the sheep.

At first Mr. Sharp thought it a wild cat, but it was most too large; the size of a big dog. Then too, it had a large long tail which hung down toward the ground and turned up at the end. In color, it was a dirty brindle, between the bay coat of a wild cat and the gray of a fox. It had a decidedly cat like head and a cat like walk.

While it might so happen, the varment was a wolf but from Mr. Sharp's accurate description, I put it down as a panther.

Austin and Oscar Sharp were up Greenbank way with their bear fighting dogs, so Elmer had only a couple of fox hounds to lay on the trail. One good dog flickered, and the other was only half hearted in the matter. She showed and expressed no desire to catch up with the varment.

Arthur Wanless keeps the look out tower on Paddys Knob, during the spring and fall forest fire seasons. This spring he was kept company watching a mother ground hog and her little ones. When the little pigs were the right size, Mr. Wanless figured he would get between them and their hole, to pick one up to take home for a pet. The other day just before he was to take his summer leave, he heard a fossing and fighting racket in a clump of brush and briers. Hurrying up, he got there just in time to see a big male ground hog kill the last of the four little ones. Each was bitten through the head. Everybody knows a tom cat will kill kittens, but this is the first evidence coming to my attention that a male ground hog will do away with little ones.

Deaths

Peter Hays Barlow

Peter Hays Barlow, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Barlow, of Marlinton, West Virginia, was accidentally killed on May 28, 1917, by hydrocyanic gas poisoning in the Washburn Wilson Road Elevator Company, at Farmington, Washington, where he was contractor, by walking into a room where the gas had been placed unbeknown to him, and was overcome by the gas.

He was born at Marlinton, West Virginia, on July 20, 1870, and was 46 years, nine months and 13 days old.

His name went with a group of relatives and friends in April of 1910, and on June 16th of the same year was married by Miss Estelle Kinke in Oakdale, of Farmington, Washington. To this union was born one daughter, Mrs. Dean M. Johnson, of Farmington.

Mr. Barlow engaged in farming for a number of years after marriage and later became Water Superintendent of this city. He was Chief of Police for twenty years, and an employee of the Washington Water Power Company for twenty-eight years.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, the Farmington Lodge 27 F. & A. M. for the past thirty-four years, and a member of the Eastern Star.

He leaves his wife, one daughter, two brothers, P. A. Barlow, of Vancouver, B. C., and C. O. Barlow, of Farmington, Washington, three sisters, Mrs. Etta Young, of Durbin, West Virginia, Mrs. George Fowler, of Mansfield, Ohio and Mrs. B. L. Gifford, of Watertown, West Virginia, six nephews, fourteen nephews, and a host of friends to mourn his passing.

4-H CAMP

The 1959 Pocahontas County 4-H Encampment closed with the Awards Program at the last council circle Friday, July 31. The camp was attended by 201 boys and girls and 23 counselors.

The campers were divided into the four traditional Indian tribes: The Mango tribe with Tony Byrd and Frances Harper serving as chief and sagamore placed first with the Cherokee tribe led by Jim Moore and Rose Marie Beck's placing second; the Seneca tribe led by Gwen Blackburn and Bill Tyler placed third and the Shawnee tribe led by Bill Shelton and Wilma Moore placed fourth.

Scholarships to return to next year's camp were presented as follows: Wilma Moore and Julia M. Lockridge received $6.25 scholarships for placing first and third in the 4-H Information contest held on Friday. Lura McElwee received a $10.00 scholarship to return to the 1960 camp for being chosen as the Outstanding First Year camper. Two scholarships to the Boys' and Girls' State at Jacksonville were presented. Bob-corn received "The Tubby Memorial" scholarship to the Boys' and Girls' State and Linda Mullenax received "The Polly MacLin" scholarship to Girls' State.

Pocahontas County 4-H charting presented at the following campers receiving 4-H pins: Bill Mullenax, Linda Mullenax, George Tony Byrd, Kay Patterson, Frances Harper.

Next year campers, 65 in all, will receive a Lucky Penny. Outstanding work within the county was the following people: the Tribal Loyalty felt at Ray Byrd, Marcia

The West Virginia Pharmacist says Mr. Rimmer was awarded the Lehn and Fink gold medal for the year 1949. This medal is awarded to the graduate of the College of Pharmacy, West Virginia University, who maintains the highest scholastic average for the four year's enrolled in college.

Before going to college Mr. Rimmer was in the armed service. Last year he was president of the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

From the same paper I get the news that Don Mason, of Marlinton, a recent graduate of the College of Pharmacy, has accepted a position with the Patterson Drug Store in Charleston.

Airplane Accident

Belmont Evans, aged 46 years, and Paul H. Duffy, aged 38 years, both of Richwood, were instantly killed late Sunday afternoon, June 12, 1949, when their airplane fell into the rocky bed of Greenbrier River at the mouth of Stony Creek.

The plane, a former Army trainer, had shortly before taken off from the near at hand Marlinton airport.

Both men were pinned in the wreckage.

Investigation by inspectors of the Civil Aeronautic Authority found the plane in perfect working condition, the cause of the accident being some error on the part of the pilot of the plane.

Duffy was a former Navy air mechanic. He owned the plane. He worked in the machine shop of Crichton Coal Company of Richwood.

Evans was a licensed pilot. He operated a pool room in Richwood.

THAT DAD OF MINE

He's "slowing" down as some folks say,
With the burden of years from day to day; }

His brow bears many a furrowed line;

He's growing old, that Dad of mine.

His shoulders droop and his step is slow

And his hair is white—as white as snow,

But his kind eyes sparkle with friendly light,

And his smile is warm and his heart is right.

He's old? Oh, yes! but only in years.

For his spirit soars as the sunset nears

And hlest I've been, and wealth
I've had,

In knowing a man like my old Dad.

And proud I am to stand by him,
As he stood by me when the day
was dim;

I've found him worthy and just as fine,

And a prince of men, that Dad of mine.

white pine trees about. There is tradition too, that the name was transplanted here from Greenbank in old England, by the ancient English family of Nottingham. They settled here prior to the Revolution and here they remain in number and influence to this day.

Talking about English place names, on the Greenbank plain is Saulsbury Run. Could the old pioneers from England have been reminded of Saulsbury Plain, where real estate interests of seven centuries since forced King John to sign the Great Charter?

This I do know that when the time came better than a century ago for to establish a post office at Greenbank, the to be post master was pressed for a name in a hurry. He looked out on the white pine slopes surroundings and said the post office should perpetuate the old community name of Greenbank. And it was so. First Postmaster Wooddell, was the father of the venerable J. Pierce Wooddell and grandfather of Mayor J. C. Wooddell of Cass.

Vain pursuit was made and the neighbors hastened to the fort of Dunmore. The fort was attacked and a man named Sloan was killed. An Indian was wounded. He was taken to a glade near Arbovale, where he was kept by a fellow warrior until he died. Hence the name Hospital Run. The tradition is that when the settlers discovered the camping place, there was much chewed up sassafras bark scattered around. This had been used as a dressing on the gun shot wound.

The tradition of the last Indian invasion was a friendly one of about three hundred strong, with numerous horses and dogs. This was about the year 1810. The community awoke one morning to find the big camp in their midst. I have always thought of these Indians as the Mingo tribe paying a farewell visit to their old hunting grounds. That was about the year they moved from Mingo Bottom near Wheeling to the head of the Muskingum River in Ohio, on a trade with the government.

In this connection let it be said that along about the year 1838, a like number of Indians, horses and dogs came to the Williams River Deadwater for a bear hunt. This was about the year this same Mingo tribe traded their Ohio lands to the government for holdings in Kansas. The Mingo

I have intended for years to write to them to see if there is any tribal tradition of farewell trips to their old range prior to migrations further west.

It may be of interest to note that the Mingo Indians, numbering about three hundred souls moved from Mingo Flats, now Randolph County, West Virginia, "at the head of the Ohio," about the year 1756. They went to Mingo Bottom, on the Ohio, near Wheeling.

It was a fighting outfit.

The old settlers refuge of the Greenbank community back in Indian times was Warwick's fort at the Forks of Deer Creek. The stockade was acres in extent.
Here the people gathered when Indians raided, and brought in their stock as well.

The family name of Slaven brings to mind the late Colonel the friend of the late Senator Henry Clay, of Kentucky. The later for years maintained a deer hunting camp on the Slaven plantation in the Narrows of the West Fork of the Greenbrier River, near the present site of the big Pocahontas Tannery. Governor

Joe Johnson and General Stonewall Jackson were also personal friends of the family.

This of course brings to mind
the celebrated old turnpike tavern, Travelers Repose. Among the noted visitors here was none other than Congressman Abraham Lincoln, later to be president of the United States.

I must not fail to mention the free and independent attitude of thought and action known to us all as the Greenbank spirit. It is well illustrated by this homely little tale. The beloved physician of the community had a hurry was set. The day of delivery was hot, the road long and dusty, the calf was obstinate. It was no pleasure trip. The good physician was made a bit breathless by a charge of $5 for delivering the calf. In those times the average daily wage was around 50 cents.

However, there seemed to be both logic and humor in the assertion that it was no farther from Greenbank to the top of Alleghany for the Doctor to ride up than it was from the top of the Mountain to Greenbank for a man to walk down.

Here the space is used up and the chapter is far from complete.

Cancer Drive Over the Top

Pocahontas County people have again demonstrated their ability to get behind a good cause and put it over in a big way.

Our quota of $563.98 for the Cancer Drive has been generously over subscribed; the total amount collected being $742.50.

Great credit is due those listed below who worked whole heartily and at no inconsiderable personal sacrifice to obtain our goal:

Mrs. W. J. Widney, Stella Blackhurst, Wallace C. Ford, Moody Orndorff, Paul Wiley, Carlton Pritchard, Clark Bragin, Ralph Burns, Emerson Yaman, Elmer Moore, Grady May, Polly Reynolds, Miss P. Smith, and Mack Brooks. Our school girls who so willingly gave their time selling tags.

REUNION

The Slaven-Johnston Reunion was held on May 29, 1949, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Johnston in Monterey, Virginia. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Slaven of Hines; Mrs. M. B. Gladden and son, Ernest, of Frankford; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Slaven, of Luthersville, Md.; J. A. Slaven, of Pikesville, Md.; Frank and J. K. Slaven, of Cass; G. C. Slaven of Cumberland, Md.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Mack Slaven and daughter, of Rainelle; Mrs. Glenna Slaven and two children, Nadine and Wallace, of East Rainelle; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mins and three sons, Marvin, Freddie and Danny of Cass; Mrs. O. C. Carpenter, of Monterey.

All of the children were present except Mrs. C. F. Belz, of Ashtabula, Ohio. Homer Slaven of East Rainelle, and Lucy Slaven, whose address is not known.

The day was spent enjoying a picnic dinner and taking pictures. In the afternoon they went to the cemetery at Vanderpool, where the parents of the Slaven children, E. M. and Lulu Slaven, and also their grandfather and grandmother, J. K. and Sallie Johnston, are buried, and decorated the graves.

The Slavens lived at Marlinton some years ago.

Weddings

Burns-Barlow

The Marlinton Methodist Church was the setting Sunday afternoon, December 21, 1958, for the wedding and reception of Miss Carolyn Margaret Barlow and Fred Campbell Burns, Jr.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Herbert Pennington, Jr., pastor of the Marlinton Methodist Church, and Rev. Eugene Pierce, pastor of the Marlinton Presbyterian Church. A musical program was presented by Mrs. Willard Eskridge, organist, John Sievertson, of Wheeling, who sang "I Love Thee" by Beethoven, and a duet, "O Perfect Love" by John Sievertson and Jon Young, of Marlinton. During the ceremony, Mrs. John Waggy, Jr., sang "The Wedding Benediction."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee S. Barlow, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Burns, Sr., all of Marlinton.

The bride was wearing the wedding gown of her twin sister, Mrs. John J. Waggy, Jr., of Morgantown, of white satin, it is

Anderson

The Marlinton Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Carolyn Margaret Barlow to Harper Burns, Jr., at 7:00 o'clock. Deacon William E. Pierce, of the church, performed the ring candle light.

Miss Anderson, of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Nelson, of St. Louis, is the son of J. W. Nelson, of St. Louis.

The church was decorated by Mrs. Arden Rhododendron and the background for the wedding with white candles.

The bride, given away by her father, was given a lace ballerina length finger-tip veil with a tiara set with pearls. She carried a bouquet decorated with white satin streamers.

Miss Ann Gay, a maid of honor, wore a red chiffon dress with a short train.

Hillsboro community, and particularly Oak Grove Presbyterian Church, suffered a distinct loss
when First Class Private Basil C.
Sharp, recently lost his life on the battle-field of western Germany.

In addition to his good work as teacher and athletic coach for five years in the Hillsboro High School, Mr. Sharp, wielded an especially good influence in his religious activities. For several years he was Superintendent of the Caesar Mountain Out-post
Sunday School, and taught its Bible Class. During the same period he taught the Young People's Sunday School Class in Oak Grove Church, and was Adult Adviser in the Young People's work.
He also did good work as a member of the Oak Grove choir, and as a member of the Hillsboro Men's Chorus. In many other ways he was a loyal supporter of the Church and its causes. In church and community-wide activities he was always ready and willing to go wherever he could be of service. This spirit has no doubt been characteristic of his whole military service.

The nation has lost a good soldier, and the whole community will miss a true friend and worker.

Dear Cal:

I will take the pleasure dropping you a few lines to let you all back there know I am still thinking of you all. I have the pleasure of running into some of the Marlinton boys; since I got

I are stationed about (separated) apart and we visit each other real often. It sure is good to be able home. We have already caught all the fish in the Greenbrier Riv-

beat that yourself. ha ha

Cal, you should see the country here. It is about the prettiest I have ever seen, or expect to see,
although I would like to be back in the West Virginia hills.

There are several other Marl-to find them. Well, Cal, I sup-

FIELD NOTES

Olus Underwood; over on Beaver Creek, has made good time on the foxes. The last week or two he laid out seven head of greys. He uses just an ordinary farm run of dog, which has developed a taste for chasing foxes. Last Friday Mr. Underwood was out on the flats and ridges at the foot of the big Beaver Lick, not far from the home of William Crigger. He found the track of a big wild cat. Soon he came to the still warm body of a fawn, which the cat had killed and partly eaten. The dog gave the cat a chase for about fifteen minutes but lost it and came back.

Early in the winter my friend,
J. W. Carpenter, of Spruce Flat, tells me know this would be a winter of deep snows and many of them. The exact number of snows for the winter is twenty-three;
the depth of each to vary with the elevation. Our first snow fell November 7th, so there will be a snow for every day between that day and the 30th of the month—23 in all.

A big doe deer kind of disrupted proceedings for a time on Harry Cochran's log job up on Alle-ghany Mountain in the Lory Draft one day last week. Okey McClain was riding a horse and Harry was driving a team up a skidding road, when a big deer jumped out a nearby tree top and made off with a lot of speed and some noise through the woods.
The horses broke too. Okey went over backwards into the deep snow; Harry's team hung up on a tree, with a horse on either side.

Anyway, after one wheat harvest all the pigeons disappeared except one blue hen. Whether from from shotguns or poison bait, I was never told; probably both. This hen was the lone pigeon for a few years.

Away back in President Harrison's administration we ran out of republicans to hold the postoffice. Sheriff Sam Gay, who was postmaster, had gotten sick with pneumonia the week the deep snow fell, December 16, 1890, and was never able for duty again. He was the community black smith, and made out very well with the postoffice and his trade; hunting and fishing. When he was no longer able to work as a smith, the postoffice was not worth while. Uncle Sam had his office and shop near the school house on Price Run, where Will Stewart now lives.

Then Rev. Madison Boggs, a colored man, moved in from Ohio. He made a good postmaster, but smith, the postoffice was not worth while. Uncle Sam had his office and shop near the school house on Price Run, where Will Stewart now lives.

Then Rev. Madison Boggs, a colored man, moved in from Ohio. He made a good postmaster, but the income from the office and toll collected from the bridge and road were not enough to keep his large and growing family. He got land up at Brownsburg, and then he could go out to work at his trade as a carpenter and his calling as a minister.

Then the community needed a postmaster, a toll collector and a blacksmith. Partisanship ran rampant back in those days so no one was allowed to qualify without being a truly loyal party man. Over the Alleghanies at Mt. Grove, Charles Zebulon Heyener, a mighty man and blacksmith, was not averse to moving over into West Virginia and professing republican politics. So he did move over to become sexton of the church, postmaster, toll collector and village blacksmith.

Among other things this useful and leading citizen brought with him was a pet male pigeon. This bird was snow white and saucy

The other day, Fred, Sharp got a big old dog red fox after a fine long chase on Buck's Mountain.
This fox had more white on him than any I have ever seen. Even his legs were white, and the red was all pretty pale. In the day's chase, Fred's dogs ran another red to hole. There is a plague of foxes this year.

When Fred goes fox chasing he wants to fox chase, and not wear his hounds out with too much cold trailing. So he keeps his dogs tied until he finds a track
he is willing to turn loose on.

In this neighborhood the range of the red fox is up on the high mountain, but of nights he comes down into the river flats to hunt rabbits and grouse. Going up the mountain Fred came upon the tracks of several foxes coming down to hunt the brush and laurel patches of the river ridge.
He gave these no mind; he was waiting for the trail of a fox coming back from his night's hunt.
Soon he found what he was looking for, and in just a few minutes he had one up and going.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Cochran received the following letter from their son, who is somewhere in Belgium, PFC. Harry R. Cochran:

Dear Mother and Dad:

I will take the pleasure in dropping you a few lines to let you know I am all okay and hope this finds you the same.

I have received the package you sent and certainly do thank you. I also received the one Mr. & Mrs. Orion Gum sent, and I only wish I could send all of you something nice, but anything that is worth sending is three times its actual value. The only thing we are short of is cigarettes, but maybe there will be plenty later.

I receive mail every day from Eunice, which keeps me company by reading. Tell all the children I said hello and to be mean as snakes, which I figure they are. Tell Louise and Alex I received their nice letter and will answer when I have a chance.

Well I must get some sleep, so answer real soon. Keep your chin up.

As ever, your son,
Harry.

Mrs. Rebecca Walker, of Marion, sends in this letter from who is serving overseas.

Dear Mother:

Just a line to let you I am well and getting on. Mother, I am happy for I have had two days Xmas! I received the sent two days ago but getting straight so I and let you know how enjoyed it. I wasn't as much I appreciate ever sent. I hadn't, smoke for over two months. I enjoyed them. We any good cigarettes we could; Caneels and I very scarce.

What made me to the pictures you sent give me an idea of how back home looks. You both got a kiss 'soon the box; I think you well. I can't help Mary's picture, I do looks like her. Tell I will have lots of the War is over, to had a fit over her, also have one or be so when I show to and tell he is her, back up a little.

Tell Norman I thank you for the bill for what he is waiting. I don't think he is or more beautiful.

the following edging from her husband, PFC. Kyle G. Dilley, who is with the Eighth Infantry Division. Mrs. Dilley received a letter from her husband written on Xmas Day in a hospital somewhere in France.

ALL HANDS FORM CARRYING PARTY.

With the 8th Infantry Div., Germany:—For eight days, the officers and men of headquarters company carried in supplies on their backs under fire and carried out the wounded to keep the First Bn. of the 28th Inf. Reg. in the position they had been ordered to hold.

Although torn by constant counter-attacks, the companies clung to that key salient in the gloomy Hartgen Forest. Supply and evacuation were the sorest problems. The one approach lay across an open draw, which was blasted night and day by enemy fire. Only men on foot could bridge that draw.

Every possible man in the C. P. was organized into a carrying party. Rations and water, ammunition and equipment were transported on vehicles to the rear C. P. There, the carrying party took over the supplies. The porters stumbled through the darkness to the edge of the draw. They slid down a long, almost vertical bank, crossed the shell-lit hill, and climbed up the other side. Coming back, they bore the litters of the wounded.

Everything the battalion received during those hectic days, was carried in by these parties, and every wounded man was evacuated.

Mrs. A. B. Brooks of Baltimore sends in a letter she received from Merle McLaughlin of the Navy:

Will try and answer your letter and Christmas card; was glad to hear from you and to know all of you are well.

Sorry I didn't get to see you more when I was home last spring.

I hope Andy and Moody got home for the deer season.

It seems funny Lyndel going to school, but maybe I have been been gone too long. It was 4 years December 11th, and I still have two more years on this enlistment. I made another rating but have to wait for it to go into effect. Then I will be first class machinist mate, by trade or a first class petty officer.

Tell everyone hello for me; will try and write you sooner from now on.

Your cousin, Merle.

As emblem of suffering and fame
To mark the resting place of one

Oh, that little wooden cross
How it fills my heart with shame
When I think of all he must have

Last spring my friend S. S. Davidson left his farm on Back Allegheny to go to work in the Shinnard Candy factory, Litz, Pennsylvania. Last week I got a box of mixed candy from him and a letter:

"I am sending you a box of mixed candy, made in the factory where I work. I am on the night shift and I work from 5 o'clock in the evening to six in the morning—thirteen hour day. During the summer, I planted an acre of ground by hand and worked it with a hoe. My other ground was all farmed by tractor. I had three acres of field corn. Fertilizer and seed cost $4.50; plowing disking and cultivating cost $50. I husked the corn and cribbed it all myself. The yield was 340 bushels. I did all this in day time after thirteen hours factory work at night. In addition I feed hogs and care for 200 hens. While I am 62 years old, it seems like I am still foolish about work.

"You will find in your candy box an almond bar of one ounce. The machine which makes these turns out 22,000 in an eight hour shift. Three men knock out the molds and set trays up. Each man handles one and a half tons of candy. You can figure out how many pieces,

Prohibition is coming back. In Massachusetts, Vermont, Maine, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Ohio and Illinois, there are thousands of precincts, towns and townships under local option of prohibition. Arkansas has 39 whole counties, Aabama 48; North Carolina 40; Mississippi 53; Georgia 64, under prohibition, and you cannot buy a drop of legal beverage alcohol in them. How much better off our nation would be if alcohol drinks would be out-lawed. I hope the good people of West Virginia will have a chance to vote alcoholic beverages out of our State as well as our nation. it would save a lot of deaths, heart breaks and suffering. So let us get busy and do all we can to oust the liquor traffic from our State and Nation.

Arizona, about their son. Second Lieutenant Harlon W. Kinnison,
Fort Knox, Kentucky.
November 8, 1957.

Dear Mr. Kinnison.

It is with pleasure that I inform you that your son has successfully completed the Armor
Officer Basic Course at the US
Army Armor School. Graduation from this difficult course of instruction is a noteworthy achievement. This accomplishment clearly demonstrates that your son has a sincere desire to learn all that is required of him, in order to qualify himself for his position of great responsibility as an officer in the United States Army.

The purpose of the Armor Officer Course is to provide newly commissioned officers with a basic military knowledge to include the fundamentals of military leadership, techniques pertaining to the Armor equipment they will be utilizing, and the organization of the units they may command.

I am certain that your son will continue to distinguish himself in his future assignments and will bring great credit upon himself,
his family, and his country.

Since rely,

John L. Ryan, Jr.
Major General, US Army
Commandant

Airman First Class William

Miss Loretta Lynn Mulhens, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mulhens, of Marlinton, became the bride of Walter A. Hively, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hively, of Martinsburg, in a ceremony performed at St. Ann's, May 17, 1936, at the Martinsburg Presbyterian Church.

The double ring ceremony was read at 7:40 P. M. by the Rev. Jack H. Albrecht, of Louisville, before an altar decorated with flowers and candles.

Tripoli and wedding march were played by Mrs. Frank Johnson of Alhambra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length powder blue dress with blue and white accessories and a shoulder-length veil of red, rosebuds and blue at-the-valley. She carried a white Bible, a gift from her parents.

Miss Dottie Dugg, maid-of-honor, wore a champagne street-length dress with beige neckline and a shoulder coverage of ivy lace and sequins.

John Hively, owner of the headstones, served as a fire

The bride's mother wore a beaded, with matching accessories and a sash of yellow, red and pink snapdragons. Edith, mother of the groom, was attired in a black suit with matching accessories and a sash of yellow snapdragons and snapdragons.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the social room of the church. The bride's table was centered with a four tier cake, topped with a musical bride and groom, and surrounded by candles and flower decorations.

Mrs. Sylvia Johnson and Miss Alice Underwood, sisters of bridegroom, were seated at refreshment table by Mrs. Ken Wood and daughter, Judy.

When the couple left for their southern wedding trip, the bride wore a white linen dress.

The couple will reside in Theodore.

Baby Incubator

The Business and Professional Woman's Club of Marlinton have undertaken as their good and kind act of this season to buy and then raise the money to pay for a baby incubator, for the Pocahontas
 Memorial Hospital. It is here.
 When not in use, it will be on display in the window of the Royal Drug Store for the next few weeks. The cost is $635.

The baby incubator has proved efficient in saving babies who are born too soon. This one is the most modern of its kind, being the latest thing on the market.
 It replaces an old, outmoded one.
 Such an incubator as the ladies have provided is a necessity, as there is not one like it available in many miles.

One of the features is that oxygen treatment can be used not only with premature babies, but also with children up to about a year old suffering with pneumonia or other respiratory diseases.
 A baby can be cared for without being taken from the incubator, even to be weighed.

In sponsoring and providing the incubator the Professional and Business Woman's Club of Mar-linton will receive donations in any amount. Send or bring your donations to Miss Mary Moore, president, or to the Royal Drug Store.

Deaths

Mrs. J. J. McGraw

Mrs. Nellie Adeline Butler McGraw, aged 74 years, died at her home in Marlinton, on Thursday, March 10, 1949. For many months she had been in failing health. On Saturday afternoon, the funeral was held from the Marlinton Methodist Church, by her pastor, Rev. E. N. Carlson. Her body was laid to rest in the family plot in Mt. View Cemetery. Thus is noted the passing of a truly good woman, wife and mother.

The flower girls were: Mrs. Sue Moses, Mrs. Mary Fisher, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Wellford, Mrs. Dagny Lovelace, Mrs. Alice Burdette, Mrs. Noble Moore, Mrs. Lillian Beard, Mrs. Ruby Moses and Miss Leone Moore. The pall bearers were: Gail Dilley, Audrey Dilley, James Dilley, Norval Pifer, Charlie Lovelace and Willard Eskridge.

The deceased was born February 14, 1875, at Burnsville, Bath County, Virginia, the daughter of the late John W. and Adeline Bateman Butler. Thirty nine years ago she was united in marriage to James J. McGraw. To this union were born two children.

Surviving are her husband and their two children, James W. McGraw and Mrs. Margaret Carlson. She is also survived by her step children Mrs. Ward Wimer and Mrs. Clarence L. Barlow, of Marlinton; and John L. McGraw, of Roanoke, Virginia; three brothers, Charlie Butler, of Marlinton; George Butler, Burnsville, Virginia and John Butler, of Ekalaka, Montana.

Mrs. McGraw was a member of the Burnsville Methodist Church, Burnsville, Virginia.

Captain James M. McNeill

CONFEDERATE STATES ARMY
From Richwood News-Leader

A name that sent tingles up the spines of Yankee Nicholas countians was a Confederate Chieftain by the name of Captain James M. McNeill, who was a builder and contractor from Pocahontas county, and who joined up with the Rebels when the war clouds of 87 years ago gathered over the nation.

For some time this newspaper has been trying to get the story of James McNeill, grandfather of the postess Louise McNeill, but was unsuccessful in finding anybody who knew much about the man. Then we ran into one of Pocahontas County's best informed, but least known historians, a man named Dorsey Little of Marlinton. Mr. Little remembered something about Jimmy Reb, but didn't want to trust himself with the historical facts, so he did the best thing possible: He wrote a letter to Professor Douglas McNeill of the Davis and Elkins College faculty.

Professor McNeill is the only son of Captain McNeill of the Nicholas Company, 22nd Virginia who was captured at the battle of Droop Mountain and kept at Fort Delaware for a long tiresome period of time. Professor McNeill's report on his father follows, and all of it is a new and important contribution to the Civil War history of Nicholas county:

born at Buckeye, on Savage Creek, Poudre river country, Big Horn. Died on the old home farm, March 26, 1911.

His boyhood was spent on the farm. In the early 1840's he taught a term or two of the old time subscription school. About 1844, he married Sarah Jane Young, built a log house on his farm, and with his girl wife went about home-making. Very shortly his wife died. Whether it was to get away from the scene of his sorrow, or to adventure in Nicholas county, which was beginning to develop, no one knows. At any rate, he left his farm in charge of a brother and walked over the "Old Nicholas Road" to Summersville—this in the late 1840's.

From what my father has told me, I take it that most of his work in Nicholas was at Carpentry. He built a one-story Dutch type house in Summersville for the Eagle (or Eakle) family, he built a log church near what is now Craigsville; he built some houses for a "Mayor" Harris as the Richlands. He has told me of building a bridge across Mud-dlety. It seems that the sills of the bridge were logs and possibly thirty or forty feet long. A number of men were present, and they had to carry the logs to place with handspikes. A Mr. McCung owned a giant slave who was supposedly the strongest man in Nicholas. McNeill weighed 220 and was something of a giant in his own right. With a man on either end of a dozen handspikes, the log was lifted and moved toward its place. McNeill and the Negro were pitted against each other. Thereupon the other men gradually eased a bit and left gradually eased a bit and left more weight to McNeill and the not admit it next morning, but he had told me that he could scarcely "get on his batches" next morning. It was, however, a consolation that the Negro was no able to report for further work on the bridge.

Personally, Captain McNeill was opposed to slavery and secession, but like Lee, Jackson, and many thousands of others, he felt that his allegiance was to Virginia, and when his state seceded, he went with it.

Our Boys and Girls in Service

Kenneth Sharp, United States Air Force, is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Sharp, after spending the past two years in Labrador.

A-1c Zane P. Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Burns, of Hot Springs, Virginia, was among ground support personnel accompanying 12 B-57B twin jet tactical bombers from the 836th Air Division's 345th Bomb Wing, Langley Air Force Base, Virginia on a good will tour of the Caribbean Area.

The wing participated in an Armed Forces Day celebration at Albrook AFB in the Panama Canal Zone on March 15. On March 17 three of the B-57's flew to Chiclayo, Peru to perform a Low Altitude Bomb System maneuver, which was the first time the LABS technique has been demonstrated in South America. Airman Burns traveled to Panama aboard a C-130 Hercules turbo-prop transport.

The 345th is a combat ready wing of Tactical Air Command's Composite Air Strike Forces, ready for immediate deployment to anywhere on the globe that it may be needed.

The 12-plane formation and the ground support personnel returned to Langley March 21, after an overnight stop at Ramey AFB, Puerto Rico.

Airman Burns is the grandson, of Mr. and Mrs. David P. Barnes.

In Re: Consolidation of Little Levels
District Precinct No. 31 (Beard)
with Little Levels District Precinct
No. 27 (Hillsboro) and Change of Voting Place in Precinct No. 27.

At a Regular Meeting of the County Court, Held For the County of Pocahontas, at the Court House Thereof, on the 1st day of April, 1958, the Following Order Was Entered.

It appearing that for the public convenience and public good, Little Levels District Precinct No. 31 (Beard) should be consolidated with Little Levels District Precinct No. 27 (Hillsboro) and that the voting place in Precinct No.
27 (Hillsboro) be changed from the High School Building to the Vocational Agriculture Building. It is therefore ordered that said consolidation and change of precinct voting place be, and it is hereby ordered to be effective as of May 1, 1958.

It is further ordered that the Clerk of this court do publish in the Pocahontas Times and the Marlinton Journal, for two successive weeks, notice of the time when such consolidation and change of precinct voting place will be considered and ordered by copy of this order.

It is further ordered that the Sheriff of this county do post certified copies of this order in four public places in said Little Levels District Precinct No.
31 and Precinct No. 27.

John Madison Tibbs

John Madison Tibbs was born in Brownsburg, Pocahontas County, on March 3, 1883; and departed this life on Wednesday, April 16, 1958, his age was 75 years, 1 month, and 15 days.

He was the son of the late
Howard and Louise Brown Tibbs.

He is survived by five nieces and nephews, and a host of relatives and friends.

He spent his entire life in Pocahontas County, during which time in his early life he was active in all community activities and served as a Sunday School Teacher for a number of years.

He was kind and patient to all and even in his last days he bore his suffering patiently with the acknowledgement of his Master through prayer.

He bade no one a last farewell
He said good-bye to none.
His poor heart just ceased to beat.
And suddenly he was gone.
Only those who know the sorrow of parting, without one last good-bye.

Can know the pain and agony
That comes when our loved one dies.

Some may think the wound is healed.

But little they know what our hearts conceal,

But we know someday that we will meet.

Where parting will be no more.

THURSDAY, MAR. 27, 1958

Being published this month is a book of interest to people of the Greenbrier Valley. It is "Glorious Ride," the story of Dr. Henry Woods McLaughlin (1869-1950) and his work with the Rural Church movement in the Presbyterian Church, U. S., and written by Dr. James McLeod Carr.

The book is introduced by Dr. Arthur Wentworth Hewitt, a well known pastor, lecturer, and author of two books on rural churchmanship used in the required course of study for Methodist ministers, and he says "It is his conviction that 'no man has surpassed Henry Woods McLaughlin in his service to humanity through the rural church.'"

Dr. McLaughlin is a native of Pocahontas, the son of the late Andrew and Mary Price McLaughlin. He served as minister at Green Bank and Dunmore at one time and one of his sons, John C. B. McLaughlin, is also a Presbyterian minister, now at Keswick, Virginia, and he has served in Pocahontas County.

The Atlanta Constitution carries a story of a million dollar business of making aluminum boats, which started with a hand made boat back in 1945. The owner of this business in Atlanta,

Well Deserved Honor

John A. Sydenstricker, of Marlinton, has been tagged for the honor of being listed in "Who's Who in America." This is an honor richly deserved. And I extend congratulations. This distinction only comes to about one person in fifteen or twenty thousand. Mr. Sydenstricker's is in the field of banking. For more years than I care to count he has served as cashier and then as Executive vice president of the First National Bank in Marlinton. Term after term he is elected to the Board of Directors of the Richmond Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank. The only wonder is that this listing in "Who's Who in America," had not come before. However, the important thing is that this high honor has come.

A Chain

Dreams, faith and works, a three-linked chain,

By which man climbed into the light,
Ever upward through all the years,
And still he climbs to reach new height.

Dreams of a neighbor on some star,
When ships can span the outer space,
Of hidden secrets brought to light,
When subs have swept Atlanta's Place.

Of planes that stand against the sky,
Watching the world in spinning flight,
Until it brings a station near,
Then dropping down, like spreading light.

Of deserts green with growing grain,
More than enough to feed all men
Of peace on earth, as it was once,
When angels sang at Bethlehem.

By dreams conceived and born of faith,
The workers at the forge of life,
Are welding chains for man to climb,
Until he stands in freedom's light.

Freedom from want, from war and fear,
From spirit crushed like trodden clod,
From tyrants' yoke of ignorance,
And freedom to commune with God.

Pocahontas County Industries

A large and representative congregation of business men of Pocahontas County met at the Court House last Thursday night.

The idea of the gathering was to put Pocahontas County in line with the organized and systematic State wide effort to attract industries to West Virginia. This movement is headed by Governor William C. Marland. The matter was presented to us by Attorney Arden J. Curry, late of the Attorney General's staff, and now executive assistant to the Governor.

Mr. Curry spoke in detail of the systematic effort now being made to attract new industries to West Virginia. He urged us to form an organization and do our part in the campaign to attract a new industry or industries to Pocahontas County from the long list of prospects which have expressed interest in locating in West Virginia. This will require an investment of money.

Naturally, Mr. Curry's message met with hearty response. The matter was put on a business basis by naming a committee on ways and means.

The president, is Senator Fred Allen; vice president, Maynard Dilley; secretary-treasurer, Richard Currence. The other six members or directors are J. E. Buckley, Glenn Shrader, Judge S. H. Sharp, R. M. Bledsoe, Walter Shafer and Archie Walker.

40th Anniversary

Mrs. and Mrs. Joel Beal Hillsboro, were honored during the evening of September 1, 1935, on the 40th anniversary with a party at their home, given by their daughters, Mrs. John May, of Charlottesville, Va. and Mrs. Hubert Callie Beard. During the evening about 120 guests called. A three tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Harper Beard and Mayo Beard. Mrs. Robert Beard and Mrs. Robert served at the punch bowl. John Chappell was at the dining room. The home was beautifully decorated with summer flowers given by Louis Baber and arranged by Miss Lela Dorsey. Gifts were received. An evening of renewing friendship enjoyed by all.

Senator Fred Allen is in Weston this week, attending the Federal Court.

Misses Fleeta and Mable spent the week end in town with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. and children, of Edray, are spending in Richwood, Saturday.

Miss Alice Waugh, J. E. Hamrick spent the week end in Huntington with friends.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 8, 1933

The question has been raised in high military circles down in Washington—is the meat of the ground hog good eating and a fit food for the elect?

The answer is that ground hog meat is good to eat—strengthening both soul and body. It gave the Pilgrim forefathers, along with baked beans and roast turkey and apple pie with cod fish on the side, the physical and moral stamina to establish on the stony soil of New England a civilization which has been an inspiration to all forward, upward looking people; to build a commercial dominion to which we all pay tribute; to maintain a culture we all envy.

I declare in all earnestness it was not the beans nor the cod, nor the turkey nor the pie nor the four-fold combination which worked wonders in the stony heart of the Puritan on his rock found acres. I declare it was and is the ground hog—under the more euphonic name of wood chuck—which greased the skids to make New England great.

Here in the Endless Mountains it was a diet of ground hog meat which gave our people endurance and courage and ambition to drive out the Indian, clear away the forest, fight in Freedom's Revolution, and send an endless stream of pioneers to subdue the West.

Taste for ground hog meat is natural—not acquired. Dress up the carcass; cut out a couple of kernels in behind each foreleg. Cook like any other good meat—

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

Army Private George Pritchard, 119, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Pritchard, of Danmore, recently took part in battalion training tests held by the 25th Infantry Division on the island of Hawaii. He is a member of Tank Company of the division's 25th Regiment.

A-10 Robert Gould Grimes, was accompanied by his mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hilley, to Ranelle to the home of Miss Yonna Boyd. From there he was accompanied to Charleston by Miss Boyd, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Boyd. The young Airman flew from Charleston to Parks A. F. B. California. He will then go to Korea. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ermon Grimes, of Huntersville. Miss Yonna Boyd will remain in Charleston, where she has enrolled in a business school.

Master Sergeant and M. Arthur Buzzard and children Jerry and Diane, of Fort Benning, Georgia, were home for two days to see their families. Mr. and Mrs. John T. Warner, of Caltonville, Maryland, and Lee Bozma and family, at Stony Bottom. They also visited other relatives in Maryland and West Virginia. While the Buzzard's were here they attended the Foxhollow County Fair.

Albert E. Latham, BTC, U. Navy Recruiter, announced today that James R. Reardon, of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rex of Bartow, and Roy C. C. son of Gladys Ober, of Bar have enlisted in the U. S. N. for a Minority term as Sea Recruits. They were sent to Navy Training Station, Bridge, Maryland, for nine months of basic training and indoctrination.

the carcass; cut out a couple of kernels in behind each foreleg. Cook like any other good meat—boil, roast or bake. Put in plenty of garden vegetables for a tasty, satisfying stew.

A fine old lady of the Valley of the Elk (name on request) gave deserved rebuke to the grand daughter who came visiting back from levels of Indiana, on Poage Creek, to the mountains of her ancestors. The young lady from the finishing school exclaimed, "Grandma, you are not really going to cook a ground hog in the house?"

Grand dame replied that when she and grandpa went to house keeping some fifty years ago, the garden house was under a trumpet vine a full two hundred feet from the back door. They cooked their ground hog regularly in the house. Now, the third generation had their bath rooms in the house, but suggested that she cook their ground hogs down at the abandoned wash place by the forsaken spring house!

In literature you will find the ground hog under the name of wood chuck. The late John Burroughs was an American naturalist writer supreme. In his "Bird Brownings" is the following paragraph telling about a woods wall on Elder Creek, somewhere up in the New York Adirondacks:

"We now made good time, and before many minutes I again saw the mimic sky glance through the trees. As we approached the lake, a solitary wood chuck, the first wild animal we had seen since entering the woods, sat crouched upon the root of a tree a few feet from the water, apparently completely nonpulsed by the unexpected appearance of danger on the land side. All retreat was cut off, and he looked his fate in the face without flinching. I slaughtered him just as a savage would have done, and from the same motive—I wanted his carcass to eat."

tion.

A Navy Recruiting Office is now open in the Post Office in Elkins, and a Navy Recruiter will be at the Post Office in Marlinton on Tuesday of each week to accept applications for enlistment in the U. S. Navy.

FARM NEWS

Some additional money has been allotted to the carrying out of Soil Conservation practices in Pocahontas County, prior to December 31, 1935.

The Pocahontas County Committee has set up a two weeks sign up period, for farmers desiring to carry out an approved farm practice as set forth in the State ASC Handbook.

Farmers must bring into the County ASC office soil samples from fields they want to treat with lime or fertilizers.

The two weeks sign up will commence immediately and close September 18. This will enable the Committee to approve and get out forms to the farmers by time to complete the practices.

Visit your County ASC office in the Bank of Marlinton Building.

Approximately 3,000 children enrolled in the Pocahontas County schools at the opening of the new term on Tuesday morning, according to announcement by Mack H. Brooks, County School Superintendent.

Of the 3,000 children enrolled, approximately 2,000 are transported between their homes and the schools by bus, some pupils traveling as much as 24 miles daily, while others travel only two miles.

Mr. Brooks called attention to a new traffic regulation concerning school buses which was passed by the State Legislature, on March 12, 1955, and contained in Article 12, Section 7, of the measure:

"The driver of a vehicle on any street or highway upon meeting or overtaking, from either direction, any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle before reaching such school bus and shall not proceed until such bus resumes motion, or until signaled by the driver or other authorized person or persons to proceed."

A shortage of teachers still exists in the Pocahontas County schools, and as a result some classrooms are empty.

J. K. Arbogast, Assistant County School Superintendent, attended a two day school lunch workshop held at Davis and Elkins College last Wednesday and Army Private George Patchard, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos M. Patchard, of Dinwiddie, recently took part in battalion training tests held by the 25th Infantry Division on the island of Hawaii. He is a gunner in Tank Company of the division's 35th Regiment.

A-3c Robert Gerald Games, was accompanied by his mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Delley, to Raleigh to the home of Miss Vonna Boyd. From there he was accompanied to Charleston, by Miss Boyd, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Boyd. This young Airman flew from Charleston to Parks A. F. B., Alabama. He will then go to crew. He is the son, of Mr. and Mrs. Ermon Grimes, of Interville. Miss Vonna Boyd II remain in Charleston, where she has enrolled in a business school.

Master Sergeant and Mrs. Ivar Buzzard and children, Iry and Diane, of Fort Benning, Georgia, were home for twenty days to see their families. Mr. and Mrs. John P. Warner, of Catonsville, Maryland, and Lee Buzzard family, at Stony Bottom. They also visited other relatives in Maryland and West Virginia. The Buzzard's were home to attend the Pocahontas city fair.

Bert E. Lanham, BTC, USN, Recruiter, announced to that James R. Hexrode, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hexrode, of Bartow, and Roy C. Ober, of Gladys Ober, of Bartow, enlisted in the U. S. Navy. Minority term as Seaman 1st. They were sent to the Training Station, Bal-

A shortage of teachers will exist in the Pocahontas County schools, and as a result some classes rooms are empty.

J. K. Arhquest, Assistant County School Superintendent, attended a two-day school lunch workshop held at Davis and Elkins College last Wednesday and Thursday, in preparation for the opening of the school lunch program in the Pocahontas County schools.

Last Monday, 125 persons attended the County Education Meeting in Marlinton High School.

The first speaker was Ross Bonar, assistant superintendent of Schools in Kanawha County. His subject was "School Administration." The next speaker State Supervisor of Administration, A. J. Gibson. He spoke on "Trends of Education." Classes offered young people who are not even planning to go to college; practical things like drivers education, "business" courses and vocational training have their place. The hot lunch for needy children and a convenience for those who cannot go home. Special attention to handicapped children is being developed. Then there are the panel discussions between parents and teachers.

"Today we have the extra bright, the extra slow and the gifted children. The plan now is to take each child where he is and then make as much progress as possible with the individual."

"We are still teaching the 3-R's. The text books of today are the best books ever."

Ermon Grimes is a patient in the Pocahontas Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel McNeill, of Baltimore, Maryland, spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Annett McNeill.

Edward Lee Baker

Edward Lee Baker, of Detroit, Michigan, aged 78 years, died on Friday, April 4, 1936, in the Harper Hospital, Detroit. Death was attributed to a heart condition from which he had suffered for a number of years.

Born at Huttonsville, on September 22, 1857, the son of James C. and Catherine O'Brien Baker, of Michigan.

On September 4, 1899, he married Bonnie A. Brown, the daughter of Robert J. and Hester Brown of Greenbank. Soon after World War I, he moved to Detroit, Michigan. He was employed by the Detroit Creamery Company, (now National Dairies) until his retirement a few years ago.

Surviving are his wife, and five children; four daughters, Bonahoe, at home, Mrs. Virginia McCarthy, of Detroit, Mrs. Beatrice Nugent, of Huron, Ohio, and Mrs. Rose Laub, of Livonia, Michigan; one son, Robert J. Baker, of Allen Park, Michigan; also eleven grand children; three brothers; John Baker, of Sayre, Pennsylvania, James Baker, of Circleville, Ohio, and Roy Baker, of Dushore, Pennsylvania, three sisters, Mrs. Lena Adams, Dushore, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Portia Cox, of Sayre, Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Jessie Bradley, of Petroleum.

The funeral services were conducted at the Funeral Home of Joseph G. Taraschi, on Tuesday afternoon, with the Rev. R. S. Garypie, of Woodward Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial was made in the Grand Lawn Cemetery near where many of his neighbors are now resting.

Colored Trout?

Watch out for trout with bright colored markings on their bottom side, if you fish in Cranberry River this spring. The Conservation Commission is trying a new scheme of marking trout by injecting colored liquid rubber under the skin. The fish in about a fifteen mile portion of Cranberry will be marked with a different color for different sections, and information will be gathered concerning their movement, length of life, etc. So report on your fish with the bright colors.

Teddie Thornton Left

Teddie Thornton Kerr was born March 7, 1904, the son of the late Harrie and Annie Lowe Kerr, and died on July 15, 1955, aged 48 years, 4 months and 8 days. He died in the Pocahontas Memorial Hospital, at Marlinton, after a short illness.

Funeral services were conducted in the Dunsmuir Methodist Church, on Sunday afternoon, with the Rev. Edward H. Thomas officiating. Burial was made in the Wilfong Cemetery, near Marlinton.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Violet Wilfong Kerr, and their three sons, Merle Gene, of Cass; Teddie Thomas, of Washington, D. C., and Jerry Lee, at home; three granddaughters, Toni Kerr, Jeanie Lee and Ginger Kerr.

He is sadly missed by all.

"I cannot say, and I will not say That he is dead—he is just away! With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,

He has wandered into an unknown land And left us dreaming how very fair

It needs must be, since he lingers there.

So think of him faring on, as dear In the love of There,

As the love of Here, Think of him still as the same, I say:

He is not dead—he is just away!

Spencer-Hinkle Reunion

All friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend the annual Spencer-Hinkle Reunion on Sunday, August 7, at Droop Mountain Park in the grove near the south entrance. Please bring your own picnic. Joseph C. Hinkle, Akron, West Virginia, is in and lived in Pittsburgh until he moved to West Virginia and where she resided until 1900. Roseverie and Roger, years ago she went to McAdoo, Pennsylvania, to live with son, J. Gordon, who moved his family to Akron, in 1954.

In addition to her son, she survived by her husband, of San Diego, California, and four children, Ruth Anne, W. Susan, and Donald Ross, Akron, and a fifth grandchild, James, in Morgantown, Virginia.

Mrs. Boggs was a member of the Akron, Ohio, McKinley Ave. Church of God. She had a host of friends in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and many parts of the country with even during her many disabilities, she kept in touch with through extensive correspondence.

Ridgeway-Bussard

Miss Zelda Jean Bussard, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Bussard, of Dunmore, Pocahontas County, and the late Howard Bussard, became the bride of Corporal William Glenn Ridgeway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ridgeway, of Lewisburg, on Saturday, June 25, 1955, in a ceremony at the Baptist parsonage in Clifton Forge, Virginia.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of white nylon with matching accessories, and a corsage of white camellias.

Mrs. Ella Harris, of Lewisburg, attended as matron of honor, wearing a street-length dress of light green and a corsage of white carnations.

James R. Arbaugh, Jr., of Fairlea, served the groom as best man.

Others attending the wedding were: Mrs. Arbaugh and daughter, Mary Susan, and Miss Betty Lou Ryan, of Lewisburg.

Corporal Ridgeway at present is stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas.

He Carried Lincoln

(Morgantown News)

An episode will be raised by the grandson of a former Morgantown man who helped carry the wounded Abraham Lincoln from Ford's Theatre.

William E. Titus, formerly of Morgantown and now of Baltimore, said he had made arrangements for an episode in the memory of William McPeck.

The inscription to be cut by the Long Monument Company here will read:

"William McPeck, Born August 13, 1838—Died October 11, 1921. His Spirit Goes To The Unknown Land Where He Helped Laid That Of The Martyred Hero, Lincoln."

McPeck was a soldier in the Union Army during the Civil War.

He was with the Third West Virginia Infantry Regiment on that fatal night of April 14, 1865 when President Lincoln was shot. McPeck was on duty outside Ford's Theatre when John Wilkes Booth fired the shot that fatally wounded Lincoln as he sat in a box at the theatre.

Hearing the shot, McPeck rushed inside the theatre and was among those who helped carry the dying President out of the theatre to a house across the street.

Titus discovered information on his grandfather's presence at the historic shooting from papers in his mother's home in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

McPeck is buried at Herring some four miles from Morgantown. The epitaph will be placed on stone at the grave site.

Soldier William McPeck is the great grandfather of Mrs. Edward Stemple, of Marlinton. Her grandmother, Letitia McPeck Martin, still lives at the old McPeck homestead on Beech Run Hill in Preston County.

Deaths

J. L. McNeel

John Lanty McNeel, aged 77 years, died at his home at Mill Point, on Saturday morning, October 22, 1955. Death was attributed to cerebral hemorrhage. He had been in failing health for several years.

On Monday afternoon, the funeral was held from Oak Grove Church by his pastor, Rev Collier Harvey, Jr. His body was laid to rest in the McNeel Cemetery.

Mr McNeel is survived by his three sons — Dr John, of St. Louis, Missouri, Joe W., at home, and Richard, of Hillsboro. His wife, Mrs Nora Wilson McNeel, preceded her husband sixteen years since.

The deceased was a son of the late Squire Isaac and Mrs Miriam Nancy Beard McNeel. His sister is Mrs Mary Gold McNeel Browning, of Beckley.

Mr McNeel was a prominent citizen and a man of large affairs. He was a farmer and stockman. At the time of his death, he was President of the Bank of Marlinton. He had served the public as Deputy Sheriff, Member of the County Court and in the Department of Public Assistance. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Masonic Lodge.

Halloween Celebrations

Plans are now complete for another big Halloween Celebration to be held next Monday night, October 31. This program will be lighted by a parade featuring Marlinton High School Band and the Marlinton Volunteer Company. All costumed and a are also invited to take part in the parade. Immediately after the parade a program of entertainment will be held on the street beside the bank of Marlinton. Prizes have been donated by the Leopers of Marlinton will be given to winners of such as: cracker eating, pie eating, balloon popping.

There will be contests for different age groups. Prizes will also be given to the stunted person, the Best couple and the Best person under 8 years. A special attraction for the evening will be the greasy pole where the prize will be attached to the top of the pole and the contestant must reach the top without the aid of a ladder. The prize. Everyone old and young are invited to attend this celebration which is sponsored by the Marlinton Club. Don't forget October 31st.

Mrs. J. Z. Johnson gave a book review on "Why Johnny Can't Read" at a meeting of the Marlinton PTA which was held at the Graded School lunch room on Friday, October 21st.

Mrs. Mack Brooks presented a report on the recent meeting of the West Virginia PTA Congress which was held at Clarksburg.

Mrs. Alonzo Dean, chairman of the PTA membership drive, which began October 4th and will continue to November 4th, announced that there are now 208 members in the local PTA. The room in the graded school having the most parent memberships will receive a treat and the student obtaining the most members will be awarded a prize, Mrs. Dean said.

Mrs. Walter Jett, PTA president, conducted a business meeting at which time it was voted to sponsor an Auction Sale on the graded school playground at 1:00 p. m., on Saturday, November 5.

Since "Happy Minds" is the theme being used by the State PTA for 1955-56, it was felt that an auction sale would be appropriate as the members stated that it was so much fun in getting rid of items no longer wanted and bidding on other articles which are needed.

Refreshments were served to 65 persons at the close of the meeting.

In Memoriam

In memory of our grandfather, Harmon I. Shinaberry, who departed this life, October 4, 1955:

From this life he has departed
And a new life he has gained,
To this life of sin and sadness
We would not recall him again.

Our dear one, he has left us,
For a happy home Above,
There to live a life eternal
Where all is peace, joy and love.

Here our hearts may be heavy,
As each day we miss him more,
But some day we will go to meet him,

On that bright celestial shore.

PROSPERITY NOTES

New York—With receipts of Pocahontas County residents running at a high level, the question arises, How much of this money are they spending? Where are they spending it and for what?

Answers to the question are contained in copyrighted study made by Sales Management of the spending habits of people locally and in other parts of the country. Put under the spotlight are such commodities as purchases of food, autos, general merchandise and the like.

In Pocahontas County most of the earnings in 1932 went into the cash registers of the local retail stores. These expenditures produced retail business in the amount of $5,001,000 for the year, an increase over the $4,079,000 recorded in 1932.

The chief buying emphasis was on food, which took 34 cents of each dollar spent in the local stores.

The volume of such purchases indicates a trend toward more luxurious living. Pocahontas County's food bill, in meat markets, grocery stores, delicatessens and such, came to $1,204,900 in the year, an increase over the $911,990 of the prior year. Distributed equally among the local families, this amounted to $115 per family.

The local ability to indulge in more and better food is but one facet of an overall improvement in the standard of living.

Luxury buying in Pocahontas County was indicated also in such selling areas and used cars, farm machinery and other non-active equipment. Such sales ran to $263,000 compared with $72,000 the previous year, amounting for another 18 cents of the retail dollar.

Green Bank Homecoming

The Green Bank Golden Eagles will meet their traditional rivals, the Marlinton Copperheads, in their big homecoming game on Saturday October 28th. A close game is to be expected, with the decision in the balance.

Homecoming activities, along with the drawing card of the game with Marlinton, are expected to draw the season's biggest crowd. Old grads have been notified by letter, and a large number have indicated they maybe expected to be on hand.

Half-time ceremonies will be high backed by the crowning of the Homecoming King and Queen—Mary Ellen Nuevy and Bob Bru Baker. Both are members of the senior class. Each class, from senior to first grade, will supply two royal attendants. They are—

Seniors—Joan Lambert, Kenneth Tallman

Juniors—Mary Rydon, Chester Cronin

Sophomores—Patty Bennett, Richard Greatlous

Freshmen—Doris Ann Lambert, John Moore

Eighth Grade—Kay Patterson, Jimmy Arbogast

Seventh Grade—Jane Taylor, Rudi Heister

The McFerrins

In a recent issue the Highland town Advertiser told the parents of his son John Henry McFerrin and their daughters June and Elizabeth. Mr. McFerrin is the son of A. H. McFerrin of Marlinton. Here is what Ruth Napier writes about the McFerrins.

The John H. McFerrin family moved to Huntington the latter part of January from Hay Village, near Cleveland when Mr. McFerrin was made plant manager of the National Carbon Company plant at Kenova. He was also associated with the company in Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. McFerrin have two daughters, June, nine years old in the fourth grade at Gink-fisher School and Elizabeth is in the first grade. She will be seven years old next month.

Mrs. McFerrin has already gotten herself a Browne Troop and is moving to Huntington. Rather she is helping to organize a Browne Troop at Galahar. She was also active in Girl Scout work in Hay Village.

Other interests for McFerrins include chiefly working in Little Theatre. Mrs. McFerrin is married in dramatics and theatre at Alma College at St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada. Her home was originally in Hamilton, Ohio.

She says she is usually the one who works around the plays, while her husband has the main job—he is the chief baby sitter.

Mr. and Mrs. McFerrin also enjoy dancing, and bring with their people.

Mr. McFerrin is a native of Marlinton, and attended Marshall College for two years so owing here wasn't really liking to an entirely strange place for he was graduated from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Mrs. McFerrin celebrated her 12th anniversary last November.

They haven't said for some while in 1937, about the time that he was the English Chairman at Cleveland. He and Mr. Johnson were class mates, 1902, at Ashbury College, in Kentucky.

Senior Play

The Marlboro High School Senior Class will present a three act play "The Professor Proposes" for Friday evenings on April 15, 1938, in the Marlboro Grade School Auditorium at 8 p. m. The price of admission will be adults 50 cents and students 25 cents.

The characters are Emily Calmore, Linda Clutter, a student in college, Geraldine Flint, Nancy May, a housewife, Jerry, Bert Correll, James Cox, the football hero of the school, Miss Martha Crawford, Barbara Bradley, a Dean and Malcom of the school, Betty Todd, Carolyn Hill, and Belle Hadley, Mary Vaughan, who are inseparable. Bob Flint, Paul Dunn, Geraldine's freshman brother, Arthur Lewis Kenneth Rowe, Geraldine's beau, at the moment, Mildred, Charlotte Lerdin, the maid, John Carr McKinney, Tony Backman, the professor of History, Rowe McKinney, Ruth Moore, a dancer and actress.

Emily, who is a student in college, never had any dates. Geraldine tried to help. She knew that men liked girls who are popular and so she told Bert that Emily was dating an out-of-town man and produced a photograph of him. Bert took a good look at Emily and began to date him. Trouble began when the original of the photograph appears as the newest member of the faculty. From then on it's a real riot of laughs and incidents. Involved in the unexpected turn of events are a number of other college students, the professor, the dignified Dean of Women a pretty bride, and a blundering maid. When the play reaches its climax, the frivolous Geraldine has learned a needed lesson and solemnly resolves to let the Cupid run his business unaided in the future.

That Hospital Levy

I was a bit surprised to hear a taxpayer say that the tax levy voted for the Pocahontas Memorial Hospital amounted to $30 on the thousand dollars assessed valuation. Further, he was backing up this statement by quoting from the Pocahontas Times. The truth is the people voted a levy of three cents on the one hundred dollars assessed valuation, or thirty cents on the the one thousand dollars valuation placed on your property by the assessor.

This hitch occurred because the amount of assessed valuation, the basis for taxation, had been confused with the amount of the tax ticket—the sum charged on assessed valuation.

Two taxpayers figured up the amount they would be required to pay by reason of the hospital levy. One pays $200 in round numbers. His hospital tax will amount to $6 a year. The other pays $350, and his hospital tax is a little more than $9 a year.

Find Life With God

Members and Friends of the Presbyterian Church of Marlinton have marked the two weeks of March 13-27 with red pencils for special attention. Beginning Tuesday, March 15, a group of ten teams of two people each will meet at 7:30 for special instruction in Visitation Evangelism. Wednesday, March 16th, will find all members encouraged to gather for prayer in one of six homes in the community. W. L. Davis with Mrs. Norman Hannah, leader; Charles A. Sharp with G. D. Stemple, leader; V. M. Fortune with E. H. Flaniken and Z. S. Smith, Jr., leaders; Clyde Varner with Miss Kitty Wiseman, leader; the manse with W. H. Avery, leader; and Clark Young with C. W. Price and E. C. Daetwyler, leaders. Thursday, March 17th, will find the visitation teams meeting again at 7:30 at the Church for instruction.

During the week of March 20-25, the culmination of the effort will be reached when the teams visit to invite unchurched neighbors to "Find Life With God." Every church member is urged to make this the beginning of a new period of loyalty in attendance at church services as well as to invite others to attend.

New Ministers

The Rev. John Irvine Prather has accepted a call to the Oak Grove Presbyterian Church in Hillsboro and will be there for services on Sunday, October 4. He comes to Hillsboro from Jackson, Kentucky, where he has been pastor of the Grant Memorial Church for the past two years. Prior to that time he was Professor of Bible at Lee's Junior College at Jackson. Mr. Prather is a native of Kentucky; he received his higher education at Columbia University in New York. The Prathers have two children, Buddy, age 14, and Pat, age 12.

Above is a picture of the huge 50,000 gallon water tank on its trip from Clover Lick to the new Buckskin Council Scout Camp at Dillery's Mill. Fred Burns moved the big tank, which was donated by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company. Men and cranes from the bridge work at Marlinton and the Observatory at Green Bank helped with getting the tank down and loaded. At Clover Lick almost any bet could have been had that it could not be moved, but moved it was. They had to ford the river and they knocked down trees all along the route. The narrowest "squeeze" came at a tight turn on Laurel Run. The tank is now at the top of a ridge at the Camp being prepared to store water from a 175-foot well that has been drilled.

Men and equipment are working like proverbial ants scraping, hauling, filling, packing the earth in the big fill for the dam at the Camp. Scheduled to be finished in two weeks from last Friday, when I visited the site, 30,000 cubic yards of dirt had been moved, leaving less than 15,000 to move. Thirty-five feet high, 290 feet long, it will form a seven teen-acre lake. A chapel, given as a memorial by Mrs. Abney, of Charleston, and to cost $15,000, will be built on a 4-acre rise at the west end of the lake. Other

Thirty-five feet high, 250 feet long, it will form a seven-acre lake. A chapel, given as a memorial by Mrs. Abney, of Charleston, and to cost $15,000, will be built on a 4-acre rise at the upper end of the lake. Other buildings facing the lake will be built with much glass at the front to take advantage of the view of the lake. The exteriors of the buildings will be wood with some stone to add to their attractiveness. Bids will be let next month for the dining hall (35 x 70), health lodge (a memorial by the Kanawha Medical Society) and the chapel. The trading post, program centers and storage buildings will be built by the crew of workmen now working under the direction of Donzil Skinner, Scout Field Executive, who has been there all summer. They are preparing fourteen camp sites—laying water and sewer lines, building fireplaces, etc.—which will take care of the 2000 campers for next summer, 250 a week for 8 weeks. New camp sites will be added later to raise the capacity to 800 a week. This compares with a total of 1068 campers at Camp McClintic in Greenbrier County this past summer, but they feel that they have not been able to stress camping as they

New camp sites will be added later to raise the capacity to 800 a week. This compares with a total of 1058 campers at Camp McClintic in Greenbrier County this past summer, but they feel that they have not been able to stress camping as they should because they did not have facilities to take care of more. Another sidelight was that the boys will camp in two-boy tents instead of larger group tents, as at McClintic.

A $5,000 gateway will be built—also a memorial, for Donald Shook—about 200 yards below the present entrance road. The administration building will be on the ridge overlooking the entrance but it will not be built for a while yet. Below it will be a memorial flagpole for Colonel Walter Phillips. Mr. Skinner said pledges had been made for more than the $250,000 goal set in the initial drive.

Thus is coming into being one of the finest Scout Camps in the United States.

Deaths

Mrs. Charles B. LaRue

Mrs. Mabel Clark LaRue, aged 64, died Saturday, October 3, 1959, in the Pocahontas Memorial Hospital following a heart attack on Friday. She had been an invalid from arthritis for many years.

Mrs. LaRue was a member of the Hillsboro Methodist Church and a charter member of the Hillsboro Order of the Eastern Star.

Born at Hillsboro September 29, 1895, she was a daughter of the late Howard and Nannie Burgess Clark.

Surviving her are her husband, Charles B. LaRue; a daughter, Mrs. James Michael, of Marlinton; and a son, Captain Charles C. LaRue, of Newburgh, New York.

Funeral services were held at the Hillsboro Methodist Church on Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. L. E. Miles and the Rev. Herbert M. Pennington, Jr., with burial in the Oak Grove Cemetery.

Greenbrier District Conservation Winners

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Callison, who operate a dairy farm in the Beard Community, have been named the district winner of the conservation award. In all there are 14 conservation districts in the state. Each year a winner is named from each district and a state winner is selected from these 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Callison operate an 80 acre dairy farm. Their Holstein herd consists of 19 cows now in production, six heifers which will come into production this fall and six heifers calves which are being kept for herd replacement. In 1958 they had a herd average of 11,600 lbs of milk.

In addition to the dairy herd, a flock of 30 breeding ewes produced 40 lambs, fourteen yearling ewes kept from the 1958 crop will be added to the flock this year.

Enough hay and silage is raised on the farm to take care of the dairy herd and ewe flock; in addition to this grain to meet the needs of the sheep and dairy heifers is produced.

Three Holstein animals which are carried as a 4-H project by their son, Joel, were exhibited at the Pocahontas County Youth Fair and the West Virginia State Fair.

Resolutions of Respect

Mrs. Grace Clark Price

We, the Marlinton Woman's Club, record with deep sorrow the passing of Mrs. Grace Clark Price, age eighty-nine years. In the death of Mrs. Price the Club has lost a valuable and beloved member.

Mrs. Price was a charter member and past president of the Woman's Club, who continued an honorary member as long as she lived.

She possessed a very unusual personality. She appreciated the rare qualities in others and had yet charity for all. Her council constantly sought, and her gracious manner drew about her many friends. Her presence added dignity to any occasion.

While our hearts are sad, we bow in submission to the will of the Father who saw fit to take her to Himself.
His influence lives on and all who knew her will treasure the memory of a beautiful life.

"The seeds of kindness she has sown
Will blossom in many hearts
The deeds of love that she has done
Were of herself a part.
That other hearts and other lives may feel

As years go by The influence of her example and life loves standard high."

Fred W. Ruckman

Fred W. Ruckman, of Mill Point died suddenly on Wednesday, July 2nd, 1958, of a heart attack. He had eaten his breakfast and been around the house as usual that morning.

He was born November 6, 1882, at Mill Point, the son of the late Matthews and Mary L. Hogsett Ruckman. He married Miss Alice Thaw, of Richmond, Virginia, who preceded him in death about five years ago.

Mr. Ruckman attended Fredericksburg College in Virginia, and was a graduate of Richmond Law School. He practiced law in Richmond, Virginia, before returning to Pocahontas County in 1911, upon the death of his father, and had since been engaged in farming. He had served several terms on the Pocahontas County Court. Very much interested in history he had written a number of articles and short stories.

He was a member of the Oak Mountain Club, and the Pocahontas County Historical Society.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Alice L. Arbogast; a son, F. Wilmer Ruckman; a sister, Mrs. Madge R. McClure, and a niece, Miss Katherine R. McClure, all of Mill Point.

Funeral services were conducted on Friday afternoon, July 4th, at Marvin Chapel by his pastor, the Rev. Collier Harvey, assisted by the Rev. L. E. Miley. Burial was made in the McNeel Cemetery, at Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adkins, of Baltimore, Maryland, are on vacation here with her mother, Mrs. Della Dunbrack.

In Memoriam

MACE—In memory of my Brother,
Amos Ray, who passed away one year ago, July 10, 1967—

It is not the tears at the moment shed,
That tell of a heart that is torn,
But the lonely tears of the after years
And remembrances silently borne.

His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall.

He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.

The years of his life were numbered,
When the messenger whispered low,
"The Master has come and called for thee"

He answered, "I'm ready to go."
Time speeds on, one year has passed,

Since the messenger said,
"Come to my Heavenly garden,

And see, in perfect bloom,

The flower you loved so dearly,
And thought I plucked too soon.

Then you will know my reason,

Though you know it not today,

Why in his promising manhood,
I took your Brother away."

What would I give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see,

To hear his voice, and see him smile,

That meant so much to me;

God knew all about those who love him,

How bitter the trial must be,

And right through it all, God is loving,

And knows so much better than we.

Writes Book

A former pastor of the Oak Grove Presbyterian Church and known to many in the County, the Rev. John K. Fleming has written and had published a small book, "Samuel Young."

An influential patriot of the Revolutionary period, Samuel Young was a leading church man of Rowan County, North Carolina. Mr. Fleming is a sixth generation descendent of Young.

He tells the story of the Scotch-Irish migration to America—in the early seventeen hundreds that moved down through the Valley of Virginia and into the Carolinas, of which migration Samuel Young was a part. He became a large land owner and prosperous planter. A learned man he possessed a good library, and was prominent in the cause for Independence.

A Scotch-Irish Presbyterian he helped establish the Thytira and Third Creek Churches.

The books may be purchased from Rev. Fleming at Greenville, West Virginia, or James T. Graham, Cleveland, North Carolina.

Deaths

Rev. C. M. Fultz

Rev. Charles Madison Monroe Fultz was born in Rockingham County, Virginia, on February 14, 1868. He died in Marlinton on Feb. 45, 1949. On Sunday afternoon his body was laid to rest in the Morgan church cemetery, near Renick. The service at Marlinton and at White Oak were by his pastor, Rev. E. N. Carlson, assisted by Rev. Roger P. Melton, Rev. J. R. Fitzwater and Rev. Clyde Hensley, District Superintendent.

Mr. Fultz is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nannie Curry Fultz, and their two daughters, Minnie and Lella. His first wife was Mrs. Minnie Leever Fultz, who preceded him nearly fifty years in death. To this union was born one son, Clifton.

The deceased was a son of the late Archibald and Mary Blaine Fultz. For fifty eight years he had been a minister of the Methodist church. He was an evangelist; a faithful pastor and a great builder of churches—no less than 29 structures stand to his credit in the conferences of Virginia, West Virginia, Illinois and Northern Wisconsin.

Mr. Carlson spoke of Mr. Fultz as "a Christian statesman of the Kingdom of God, to whom death was just going home."

Mother, you have gone and left us
In this world of strife and woe,
How our hearts did sadden
When we knew you had to go.
What a faithful, loving mother,
For to pray as death drew near
For her sons and daughters,
Everyone to her most dear.

Mother, dear, oh how we miss you
But 'tis God who called you home
And some day we hope to join you
Over there no more to roam.

As we leaf your well worn Bible,
See the promises you marked
We will try to heed them mother
With our tired, saddened hearts.

Some day, oh mother dearest,
We will come and take your hand
And there in sweet remembrance
We will live and understand.

By her son,

the leaves from the trees surrounding his grave, the revival began, and more than sixty souls had confessed Christ as Lord and Saviour.

Soon after the passing of Edgar Floyd Alexander, one of our native sons was on his way home from Seminary, and - alighting from the train late in May, Henry W. McLaughlin met in Roncverte, Wm. H. Cackley formerly of Dunmore, who informed him of Mr. Alexander's death. He was immediately sent by the Presbytery to the Green Bank area. The Liberty meeting got under way the first half of September, and Mr. McLaughlin was in the midst of it doing his part. People came for miles around to attend the meetings; regardless of denominational preference. The preaching was good. It was scriptural and appealed to the consciences of men. The people were exhorted to turn from sin, to repent, and find salvation through faith in Jesus Christ. This writer was only sixteen then, and perhaps I was not yet a big sinner. The preacher was somewhat dramatic in presenting the truth. One night he opened up on the Ten Commandments. He represented each commandment as a cannon mounted on Mt. Sinai, and each transgressor who broke perhaps I was not yet a true believer. The preacher was somewhat dramatic in presenting the truth. One night he opened up on the Ten Commandments. He represented each commandment as a cannon mounted on Mt. Sinai, and each transgressor who broke that law was blasted by that particular gun. I sat trembling under the power of that sermon, and felt my great need of help from above. When the invitation was given some of my young friends went forward, and I hoped and prayed for strength to follow and soon went up myself. For two days I earnestly prayed and tried to exercise faith and then the change came. It was like the coming of day in my life. And God has greatly blest me these many years.

Some of the impressions of those days are fadeless. People generally were taking part in the meetings. One day a man of another communion pled with me to give my young heart to God.

Many of these new members became leaders in the church.

What is a church for? To build the mind and spirit of Jesus into the life of our young people?
Yes. To bring sinners to repentance, and into fellowship with Christ? Yes. To edify believers, and forward the program of our Lord throughout the earth? Yes.
To glorify God and exalt Christ until every sword is beaten into plowshares, and every spear into pruning hooks, and the kingdom of God has come among the nations of this earth. This is our task.

RESOLUTION

Resolutions Passed by Hendersonville Lodge No. 48, A. F. & M. M.

On the Death of Homer Delley

At a regular communication of Hendersonville Lodge No. 48 of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, held in their hall at Hendersonville, West Virginia, February 11, 1948, the following resolutions were adopted:

FIRST, that in view of all Wise Providence to deliver from the scenes of his earthly labors on the 28th day of December, 1948 at the age of 68 years, our friend and brother, Homer Delley, therefore be it RESOLVED:

FIRST, that his immediate family in the death of Brother Homer Delley have lost an affectionate protector, who, as a husband, was true and devoted, and as a father, was kind and considerate.

SECOND, that the members of Hendersonville Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons extend their heartfelt sympathy to his family in their bereavement, and pray that the sustaining grace of God may constantly keep them, and His providence may sustain them wherever dispersed.

THIRD, that the community, in his death, has lost the noblest work of God's Creation—a christian man, honest, reasonable, and just; a neighbor, generous, accommodating, and kind, who acted upon the square and did unto his neighbors as he would wish them to do unto him, and a citizen, quiet and peaceful, true to his government, and loyal to his country.

FOURTH, that the Lodge, in his death, has lost a faithful and efficient member, one who lived the tenets of our order, and by whom the instruction of his brethren agree—"his conduct—his innocence and the badge of free and accepted mason"—was worthily worn, and while we miss the presence and example of our beloved brother, and sorrow because we see his face no more in the flesh, yet we have it proudly remembered in the will of the Supreme Architect of the Universe in traveling our beloved brother from labor in this earth by leading to that spiritual habitation, that hence not made with hands eternal in the heavens.

FIFTH, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, and in each church paper for publication, and also to be entered upon the records of the Lodge.

First National Bank Erects Chime Clock

Visitors in Marlinton can now find out the correct time of day by raising an eye-lash, and if they have been so late the night before and are too sleepy to do that, a noise resembling the "bonnie blue bells" will penetrate their ears, telling them it is time to go to lunch, keep and engagement, or quitting time. The First National bank, the only national bank in Pocahontas county, has made all this possible by erecting at their front door on Main Street a Chime Clock, bearing the bank's insignia. The clock is the only one of its kind in the county, and according to information no other bank can purchase one like it from the same company. The rules governing the sales of such time pieces are fixed that way, and the only thing that could cause this rule to become null and void would be a sudden, large increase in population.
That not being likely, the First National has done something which cannot be copied—even if anybody wanted to.

IN MEMORIAM

A tribute of love and devotion to the memory of our dear husband and father, Uriah W. Beverage, who departed this life one year ago July 26, 1927.
The angels came with silent tread,
And gathered 'round our father's bed;
Unto their shining home above,
They bore him in their arms of love.

Just asleep his soul immortal,
Dwelling now beyond life's woes,
Finds from care and pain and sorrow
Sweet and undisturbed repose.

But whether in our work or play,
A tinge of sadness lingers near,
To make us mindful every day,
Of an absent one we loved so dear.

Then when life and tears are past,
Our hearts will never know no sadness,
For we shall find our loved ones safe
at last,
Where all is life and joy and gladness.

There we'll meet on the streets of gold,
Where our Saviour we shall see,
His glory there we shall behold,
With our loved ones we shall be.

Till then O Lord help us to watch and wait,
And ever true and patient may we be Then your own dear hand will open wide the gate,
And our absent father again we'll see,

Stock.

WVPA Gavel Found

The historic gavel and block provided for the State Newspaper Council some 20 years ago by Calvin Price, long time editor of the Pocahontas Times, Marlinton, have been found and returned to Col F. P. Fisher, secretary-manager of the West Virginia Press Association, in January.

The gavel and block had been taken care of by the head waiter of the Daniel Boone Hotel, Charleston where the West Virginia press had a convention some time ago.

The wood came from a log originally in Fort Donnally, erected in what is now Rader's Valley on Milligan Creek, six miles from the present site of Williamsburg, West Virginia, in 1768. The fort served as a refuge for settlers in the case of attack by Indians. The wood is over 100 years old.—West Virginia Fourth Estatemanager.
